Freeman sets the standard in the vaping industry by demanding the highest quality in labeling, ingredient safety and flavor profiles that can assimilate its counter-part like non-other. Great care and artistry is a part of our flavor creation process and our team spends months testing each flavor and hand selecting each high-quality ingredient. We allow for extensive steep (saturation over time) variances, before taking a new creation forward for final review and acceptance to our vape juice line, as well as many other rigorous tests.
